DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election without traverse of claims 1 - 24 in the reply filed on 4/21/04 is acknowledged.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1 - 7, 11, 12 and 20 - 24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Torres et al..

Torres et al., U.S. Patent No. 5,898,213, discloses a semiconductor package. As shown in Figure 7, a substrate 95 has a die 96 mounted at a die attach area. The die 96 has a plurality of bond pads 97. Bond pad islands 98 are located on the substrate 95. Bond wire 99 connects the bond pad 97 to the bond island 98. The bond pad island is connected to a conductive terminal pad 102 by trace 101. In column 51, beginning on line 27, alternative arrangements for external connection are described.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 2822

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148

USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claims 8 – 10 and 14 –19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Torres et al. in view of Chou et al.

In regard to claims 8 – 10, and 14 Torres et al. do not disclose a bond finger for coupling a bond wire between a bond finger and a bond pad.

Chou et al., U.S. Patent 5,691,568, discloses a wire bondable package design. As shown in Figure 5A, for example, the package comprises a bond finger 511 for coupling a bond wire 526b between a bond finger and a bond pad on the semiconductor chip.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to combine the package of Torres et al. with that of Chou et al. as both are directed to semiconductor device packages where a die is attached to the surface of a substrate and connected by bond wires.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claim 13 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

In regard to claim 13, the prior art does not teach or suggest the redundant solder ball
